

WILSON'S CABINET READY AND EAGER TO RETIRE MARCH 4

Has Been a Record-Making Cabinet, Three Members
Serving Eight Years.

ALL GLAD TO GET REST.

Will Go Back to Their Old Lives Early on Morning of March 5.

Special from a Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—With tempestuous years behind them, the members of the Wilson Cabinet are waiting with complacency for March 4. Holding down a Cabinet job under war and post-war conditions is no snare, and most of those who retire next Friday are delighted to get back to their private business. Only three of the men who now hold portfolios in the Wilson Cabinet have held their posts during the entire eight years of the Wilson regime, these being Postmaster General Burleson, Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Secretary of Labor Wilson.

Contrary to popular belief, this is not unusual. Examination of the records establishes the fact that very few men have served for eight years in the Cabinet of any President. War Cabinets especially are hard to hold together. Only two of Lincoln's original Cabinet appointees were serving when he was assassinated in 1865.
Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby will return to New York and resume the practice of law right where he left off a year ago, when his appointment surprised the country, following on the heels of the Lansing resignation.

"Just as soon as I can get my personal affairs in shape here I will return to New York, and it won't take many days," said Secretary Colby.
He probably will reach New York by Monday.

Secretary of the Treasury David F. Houston, who was a distinguished educator before he came into the Wilson Cabinet, is undecided as to his future plans. He has purchased a home in Washington and will remain here for the present. His friends think he will be offered the Presidency of one of the larger universities.

Secretary of War Baker, who was one of the late Tom Johnson's "boys" out in Ohio and rose to local fame in Johnson's traction fight, has made all arrangements to return to Cleveland immediately and resume the practice of law. "I expect to be at my law office in Cleveland Monday morning," said Baker.

Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer has already opened offices in one of Washington's downtown office buildings, and will begin the practice of law in association with two of his associates at the Department of Justice. It is reported that Palmer may also open New York offices, but this has not been finally determined.

Postmaster General Albert S. Burleson, the stormy petrel of the Administration, has made up his mind to retire from politics. He had served sixteen years in Congress before entering the Cabinet. He will go to his ranch near Austin, and enjoy the independence of a Texas farmer.

Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels will return to the management of his newspaper at Raleigh, N. C.

"I may come to Washington occasionally as a staff correspondent to cover Congress," said Secretary Daniels to-day. "Most of the time I expect to be busily engaged in running my newspaper at Raleigh."

Secretary of Agriculture Edwin T.
Meredith will leave for Des Moines, Ia., Monday, to resume his publishing business. He is the editor of one of the leading farm journals of the country. He is also President of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, and, like W. J. Bryan, maintains a winter home at Miami, Fla.

"My year down here has been very pleasant and interesting, but I have had to neglect my own business, and I am glad to get back to it as quickly as my successor qualifies," said Mr.
Meredith.

Secretary of the Interior John Barton Payne is a lawyer by profession and an art connoisseur by preference.

He recently gave his native State of Virginia a million-dollar collection of paintings. He is undecided as to his immediate future and, being a man of wealth and years, will probably remain in Washington for some time.
Secretary of Commerce Joshua W.
Alexander was a member of Congress from the Gallatin (Mo.) District when appointed to the Cabinet. He will return to Missouri on March 5 and resume the practice of law in the little town of Gallatin. It is not unlikely that he will be a candidate for re-election to Congress, two years hence.
Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson will go to his farm in Pennsylvania for a rest when he lays down his duties as a Cabinet member. There is a well defined sentiment in organized labor circles to run him as a candidate for the Presidency of the American Federation of Labor against Samuel Gompers.

As for President Wilson, no one, unless it be his immediate family, knows his plans for the immediate future.
It has been reported for a long time that he would devote considerable time to writing his memoirs, but he recently indicated that this was a mistaken impression. He will go directly, on March 4, to the new residence he and Mrs. Wilson recently purchased in Washington. He told a delegation of Harvard students a few days ago that he would devote the remainder of his life to working for world peace.

BOY THIEF "DEFECTIVE."

That Is to Be Defense of Lad Who Fled with $775,000 Bonds.

CHICAGO, March 1.—William Dalton, the sixteen-year-old boy who stole $775,000 from the Northern Trust Company, has been indicted by the Grand Jury, the bill charging him with larceny as bailed and embezzlement. If convicted his punishment would be from one to ten years in the State Reformatory.

George H. Guenther, his lawyer, indicated his line of defense by the statement that he would have Dalton examined at once by Dr. Hickson, at the psychopathic laboratory. "All the features of this crime," said he,
"point to mental deficiency on the part of the boy."

SEES WAR TAXPAYERS' BANE.

95 Per Cent. of Funds Consumed by Waste, He Says.

Norman Thomas, speaking last night at a mass meeting for disarmament, at Cooper Union, under auspices of the World Peace Fellowship, said 95 per cent. out of every dollar of Government funds this year is being spent for war, either past or present, and in preparation for the future. Only 1 per cent., he added, was spent for education and public health.
Other speakers were Joseph Schloss-berg, Secretary and Treasurer of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America; Rose Schneiderman and A. J.
Muste of the Clothing Workers.

WILLIAM H. DAY LEFT $2,000,000 ESTATE

Widow Gets $500,000 in Cash—Stepson $25,000 and Son the Residuary.

The will of the late William H. Day, one of the directors of the Standard Oil Company, filed for probate with Surrogate Walter at White Plains yesterday, disposes of an estate estimated to be worth $2,000,000.

Mr. Day gives his wife, Marguerite Day, $500,000 in cash and all the silver plate, automobile and personal effects at the Mamaronck estate. Lawrence H. Austin, a stepson of the decedent, gets $25,000. The sum of $35,000 is left in trust with the United States Trust Company, which is directed to pay the income to Grace Henderson of No. 441 Common Street, Belmont, Mass., a sister-in-law of Mr. Day.

The residuary estate goes to William H. Day Jr., son of the testator, who resides at Dubuque, Ia., which includes the town house of the family at No.
100 East 42d Street. The executors are Barlow S. Weeks and Marguerite Day.

CAPRONI'S NEWEST PLANE WILL CARRY 100 PASSENGERS

Giant Airship, Completed, Weighs 24 1/2 Tons and Has 3,200 Horse-Power Engines.

MILAN, March 1.—The new Caproni air liner with cabin accommodations for a hundred passengers is no myth.
Caproni himself, Italy's most famous aeroplane designer, supplies the following details of the giant seaplane:
"The weight of my first monoplane constructed in 1910 was half a ton and of forty horse power. The weight of the flying ship I have just completed is 24 1/2 tons and it has 3,200 horse power engines. This craft consists of a central boat measuring 66 feet in length, with a passenger capacity of 100 persons. To the boat there are attached three sets of triplanes. The carrying surface is about 7,160 square feet.

"The flying ship is fitted with eight engines, four carried on the front tri-plane and four on the rear triplane, each engine being of from 300 to 400 horse power."

It is interesting to recall that nearly four years ago Caproni predicted the coming of giant aeroplanes of this type. Even he, however, did not then foresee that they would be of such enormous engine power. Another of his predictions is fast transatlantic aeroplanes with accommodations for fifty or more passengers.

Flower-like Fabrics at McCutcheon's for Lovely Summer Frocks

IT'S like strolling through a glorious Garden! Daffodil Yellows—cool, clear Greens—the Red of flaming poppies—a frost of silvery Gray—Rust—deep, delicious Grape tones.

Such lovely Dresses these Flower-like Fabrics Inspire!

Frocks like butterflies! Of Organdie with an elusive, shadowy pattern; crossbarred, embroidered in polka dots or beaded designs. Of crisp Dimities, candy-striped, spotted, powdered with tiny dots. Or of Voiles of Crepe, soft as petals.

Quaint gowns of Satene, English or French, primly patterned or plain—of English Prints or Tropical Prints (a sheerer weave) with precise geometrical figures, little sprigs of blossom, or Dolly Varden nosegays.

Ginghams—In little checks and big checks—myriads of checks!
Checks that may be demure, checks that may be a little daring —but always checks that are smart.

And Linens, rough, heavy weaves for country frocks and a gay flutter of Handkerchief Linens. Dotted Swisses, too—lovely harbingers of a beautiful summer.

A whole Summer Wardrobe might spring into being right here at McCutcheon's. And how distinctive it would be! For not only are many of McCutcheon's fabrics exclusive importations, but their delicately embroidered tracteries, their cobwebby needlework, their delightfully different color effects are made to McCutcheon's order!

Owing to the great demand of these fabrics, we strongly advise that you make early selections.
